TAIT'S ROYAL HYACINTHS

Although less graceful than the lily, the Hyacinth is still Queen of the Dutch Bulbs, and is the most familiar of them all. It is perfect in form, of beautiful coloring, and carries its burden of fragrant bells with a stateliness characteristic of no other small flower. It does equally as well indoors as in the garden, and can be grown in fiber, water, sand, or soil. When grown in sand or soil it should be enriched with bone meal or sheep manure. For indoor blooming, it is best to plant the bulbs in Prepared Bulb Fiber, and bring them to the light at intervals of ten days or two weeks, for a succession of bloom. The bulbs should be planted from 4 to 6 inches deep and about 6 inches apart.

Plant 4 inches deep and 4 to 6 inches apart.

TAIT'S SUPERB NARCISSUS

Few bulbous flowers are more graceful than the Daffodils. While they do not possess the gorgeous colorings of the Darwin and Cottage tulips, the fact that they come into bloom in April and precede the tulips, suggests their use. Plant 6 inches deep, 6 inches apart.

The most satisfactory flowers that can be grown in the house for winter blooming, and they require little care. The bulbs grow very rapidly, usually blooming in about six weeks, and will thrive under nearly every condition, provided they are given fresh air and not too much heat. For a succession of bloom the bulbs should be started every ten days from September to January. When grown in Prepared Bulb Fiber, care should be taken to keep the Fiber moist, but not too wet. They can also be grown in water (see illustration), but it is best to change the water occasionally to keep it from becoming stagnant. Mammoth Bulbs, 75 cts. per doz., $5 per 100. Large Bulbs, 55 cts. per doz., $4 per 100, delivered.

Lily-of-the-Valley

These are most effective when planted irregularly in small groups. Place the crowns about 2 inches below the surface. TAIT'S GIANT SPENCER SWEET PEAS

Each year a number of new Sweet Peas are placed upon the market, with extraordinary claims about their colors and sizes. We carefully test all the new varieties and add the really good ones to our list. As a result of this policy, our list of Sweet Peas is excellent, and contains the best varieties obtainable in this country.

In the South, Sweet Peas may be sown in the fall or early in the spring. To secure large flowers and brilliant colors, sow the seeds in a rich soil that has been heavily manured, and in a location where the plants will get plenty of sunshine. Many experts make a trench about 10 inches deep and fill the bottom with well-rotted manure, covering this with 2 inches of good soil. The seeds are covered with 2 inches of earth, and as the seedlings show above the surface, the rest of the soil is raked into the trench. When watering, try to keep the water near the roots, since sprinkling the vines seems to do more harm than good. Pick the blooms regularly, and they will bear until killed by extreme heat or frost.

Named Sweet Peas will be sent postpaid. Pkt. 10c, oz. 30c, $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 90c, except where noted.

Tait's Thorobred Spencer Mixture

Contains more than fifty of the most beautiful Spencer shades. Many varieties have ruffled and fluted petals. Where a variety of color is desired, this mixture is eminently satisfactory. Pkt. 10 cts., oz. 25 cts., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 75 cts., lb. \$2.75.

TAIT'S THOROBRED LAWN GRASS

SOME of the most beautiful lawns in America have been made with this mixture of grass seed, which has stood the test of many climates, and must not be compared with the ordinary Emerald, Evergreen and Central Park Mixtures usually sold. It is the result of over fifty years of untiring study and experiment, coupled with the endeavor to give those who appreciate and desire a lawn a grass-seed mixture that will produce a rich green sod in six weeks after planting, and yet make a fine and thick turf the longer it stands. It is composed of fine-leaved hardy grasses, which will not only stand the heat of summer, but outlive the severest winters. Do not be afraid of sowing grasses too thickly, as a heavy seeding always means a better sod. We recommend for ground that has been properly prepared: one quart to 150 square feet; four to five bushels per acre. Price, qt. 30 cts.; 2 qts. 55 cts.; 4 qts. $1. pk. $1.90; bushel, of about 24 lbs., $7.50. Delivered.
